

Capital increase for Docubase Systems, a Tessi subsidiary

Tessi integrated Docubase Systems at the time of the acquisition of the Marketing Services, Corporate EDM and Online Tax Declaration Portal of the CEGEDIM Group in July 2007.

Positioned as one of France's principal players in the Document Imaging field (EDMS, ECM), Docubase Systems has a global, integrated suite of products that enables full-scale management of Document Flows.

The Docubase Systems software package and services offering covers the phases of data capture by scanning, identification and automatic document classification of documents (ADC/OCR/ICR) and document circulation via business processes (Workflow) up to and including electronic signature and archiving at probative value (electronic safe), as well as the information indexing, control, storage, research and consultation stages.

Docubase Systems also proposes scanning, indexing, archiving and EDM application hosting services available via the WEB in ASP mode (Application Service Provider) or SaaS (Software as a Service) mode, based on Tessi infrastructures.

This entire offering fits seamlessly into Tessi's business and Flow Processing strategy.

Docubase Systems distributes its range of products directly and through a network of partners in France and abroad: it has over 3,000 customers Worldwide.

To ensure the long-term viability and development of Docubase Systems, Tessi will be increasing the capital of its subsidiary between now and the end of 2009.

Next publication: Turnover for the 2nd quarter 2009, on 6 August after close of trading
